Shaping the Future of EU Environmental Policy

From the 7th to the 8th Environment Action Programme - Status, Challenges, and Next Steps

The European Union (EU) is a powerful actor in environmental politics and policy-making across its 28 member states: on average, 80% of what becomes national environmental legislation in EU Member States originates at EU level.

Since the mid-1970s, EU environmental policy-making has been guided by Environment Action Programmes (EAPs). The current 7th Environment Action Programme (7EAP) entitled "Living well, within limits of our planet" was adopted by the European Parliament and the Council of the European Union in November 2013 and came into force in January 2014. Its stated aim is to

"to step up the contribution of environment policy to the transition towards a resource-efficient, low-carbon economy in which natural capital is protected and enhanced, and the health and well-being of citizens is safeguarded."

The programme provides an overarching framework for environment policy to 2020 and identifies nine priority objectives for the EU and its Member States to attain. Responsibility for achieving the goals and objectives is shared by the EU and its Member States and priority objectives need to be met by 2020.

What can be said so far about the success of the programme?

The aim of this policy forum is to explore the status of implementation of the 7EAP – at EU and Austrian levels – and to create a basis for discussing challenges for environmental policy in the next decade and what its priorities should be with regard to an 8th Environment Action Programme (8EAP). Participants are invited to actively contribute towards the development of an Action Plan for an 8EAP.

Join us for a high-level policy forum on EU and Austrian environmental policies and discuss with expert speakers including high-level representatives from the European Commission and Parliament, the European Environment Agency (EEA), the World Business Council for Sustainable Development (WBCSD), representatives from Austrian politics and administration, NGOs as well as policy experts from other EU member states.

7th EAP – The general Union Environment Action Programme to 2020

Living well, within the limits of our planet

Since the mid-1970s, EU environment policy has been guided by action programmes defining priority objectives to be achieved over a period of years. The current programme, the seventh of its kind, was adopted by the European Parliament and the Council of the European Union in November 2013 and covers the period up to 2020.

The programme is guided by a long-term vision:

“In 2050, we live well, within the planet’s ecological limits. Our prosperity and healthy environment stem from an innovative, circular economy where nothing is wasted and where natural resources are managed sustainably, and biodiversity is protected, valued and restored in ways that enhance our society’s resilience. Our low-carbon growth has long been decoupled from resource use, setting the pace for a safe and sustainable global society.”

The programme lists nine priority objectives and what the EU needs to do to achieve them by 2020:

Thematic objectives /Key objectives

1. to protect, conserve and enhance the Union’s natural capital
2. to turn the Union into a resource-efficient, green, and competitive low-carbon economy
3. to safeguard the Union’s citizens from environment-related pressures and risks to health and wellbeing

Enabling objectives

4. to maximise the benefits of the Union’s environment legislation by improving implementation
5. to increase knowledge about the environment and widen the evidence base for policy
6. to secure investment for environment and climate policy and account for the environmental costs of any societal activities
7. to better integrate environmental concerns into other policy areas and ensure coherence when creating new policy

Horizontal objectives

8. to make the Union’s cities more sustainable
9. to help the Union address international environmental and climate challenges more effectively.
